

59.4%
of respondents know someone in their immediate circle who suffers from asthma

74.8%
of 18- to 29-year-olds
that someone in their immediate circle suffers from asthma

48.8%
of respondents agree with the statement that asthmatics are very limited in their daily lives

38%
of respondents would like better care from their doctor in the event of an asthma condition

10 FACTS

FROM A REPRESENTATIVE
ASTHMA SURVEY*

ONLY 35.2%
of 18- to 29-year-olds
share this view

38.9% of respondents have reservations about using cortisone-based medication

52.3%
of respondents
would want to track
the progression of the disease themselves
with the help of modern digital tools (e.g. an app) in the event of an
asthma diagnosis

31.5%
additionally stated that they could not comment on this

¹ "Asthma Health Atlas" of the Scientific Institute of the AOK (WIdO) health insurance fund
* The opinion research company Civey surveyed 5,000 people nationwide between March 31, 2021 and April 3, 2021 on behalf of Bosch Healthcare Solutions and BCW. The results are representative for the German population above the age of 18. The statistical error of the overall results is approx. 2.5%.

 The opinion research company Civey surveyed 1,000 people who are frequently concerned with the topic of asthma between March 31, 2021 and April 3, 2021 on behalf of Bosch Healthcare Solutions and BCW. The results are representative for this group. The statistical error of the overall results is 5.3%.