

April 2018

Bosch campus for research and advance engineering in Renningen

- ▶ Amount invested                      Roughly 310 million euros (of which 217 million euros for construction work and 93 million euros for machinery and technical equipment)
- ▶ Start of construction work          June 2012
- ▶ Inauguration                            October 2015
- ▶ Plot                                        100 hectares in total, of which currently 43 hectares are built-up area
- ▶ Buildings                                14, including main high-rise building (60 meters high, 12 stories), 11 laboratory and workshop buildings (between 10 and 19 meters high, 2-3 stories), and 2 service buildings

- ▶ Associates on site incl. Boeblingen                      1,900 associates

Research and development at Bosch

- ▶ Associates                                Some 64,400 researchers and engineers worldwide, 1,700 of them in the corporate sector for research and advance engineering
- ▶ Locations                                International research network of the corporate sector for research and advance engineering, comprising 12 locations in 8 countries (Sunnyvale, Pittsburgh, Boston, Hildesheim, Renningen, St. Petersburg, Moscow, Bangalore, Tokyo, Shanghai, Singapore, and Tel Aviv); other engineering activities related to the development of products and services at some 125 locations worldwide
- ▶ R&D expenditure                      7.3 billion euros in 2017 (roughly 9 percent of sales of the Bosch group) are invested in research and development